Japanes Boy Wants to Fight MR. AH. WING, CHINAMAN

A representative of the Chinese Empire and one of the Mikado's subjects will meet in the square circle under the auspices of the West Oakland Athletic Club at the March show, if present plans are carried out.

It will be a meeting of Ah Wing, champion Chinese pugilist of the world, and Frank Nagasack, a clever little Japanese.

There ought to be much joy spread about when this pair hook up. Both have appeared before in engagements under regular rules and regulations, but if they are matched, it will be the first time that Ah Wing has ever attempted to wallop a Japanese, and it will be the first time that Frank Nagasack has ever sought to pummel a Chinaman. But both of them have met and won from colored pugilists.

CAN KNOCK OUT.

Recently Ah Wing fought in preliminaries across the bay. He won one of his battles by using the famous La Blanche swing, and his last battle was won on decision, Wing showing more cleverness than his opponent.

The Japanese boxer has received lessons in the art of punching and defending from Dan Coakley of the West Oakland Athletic Club for a couple of years and he knows a whole lot about the game. The Mikado's subject was the first to express a desire to meet the Chinese champion in the arena and the match-maker of the West Oakland club was quick to write to Ah Wing offering him the mill.

IS A COOK.

A reply has not yet been received, but it seems a cinch that he will agree to meet the Japanese. At present Ah Wing is cooking "ham and" for "Young Corbett" and Joe Gans over at San Rafael, and he can cook as good as he can fight, and that's going some.

The match-maker of the West Oakland club is signing up material for the club's March show. Here is the card thus far: Joe Perry and M. Foley, 130 pounds; A. Pazzo and "Kid" Johnson, "Kid" Johnson and Loren Brown. The Johnsons are not brothers and do not even look or fight alike.

FOOTBALL GAME FOR AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Century Eleven Will Meet Team From Haywards.

The Haywards football team and an eleven representing the Century Athletic Club of East Oakland will clash at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow on the Twenty-third avenue gridiron, the winner of the contest to be declared the amateur champions of Alameda county.

At the present time the Century football team claims the amateur football championship of the county, but this claim is disputed by the men from Haywards.

After the game the players will be treated to a big feed at the clubhouse of the Century Athletic Club. Following is the line-up of the Century team:

Wallace Price, end and captain; McBain, quarter; Thomas, half; Thomas, half; Hunter, full; Chester, Malcolm, end; E. Moore, center; Jackson, guard; Hardwick, guard; Stalder, tackle; Nelson, tackle.

The Haywards team averages 145 pounds. The eleven is directed on the field by John Covey.

ARE AGAINST ALL BICYCLE RIDERS.

The protest of James P. Taylor against the ordinance permitting bicyclists to ride on sidewalks was first taken up by the committee of the whole at the Council last night.

In the protest Mr. Taylor stated that his mother was twice knocked down by a man on a wheel.

After City Clerk Thompson finished reading the protest President Dornin stated that he was in favor of passing a measure which would prohibit the riding of any bicycle on the sidewalk.

"We have in times past," said Mr. Dornin, "attempted to draft amendments which would give the bicyclist some rights. They have abused the privilege so extended and I am in favor of having the City Attorney draft an ordinance which will prevent all riding on the sidewalk."

Councilman Elliot—I am not in favor of passing a drastic ordinance. Because there are certain individuals who disobey the law, I do not think that a large number of them do so.

It was finally decided to have the City Attorney draft an ordinance prohibiting the riding of wheels on the sidewalk.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter of Pittsburgh, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful. Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders. At Osgood's drug store, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington, price 50c."

FOOTBALL MEN FAIL TO SHOW.

HAYWARDS, February 21.—On account of the unwillingness of the Pleasanton players, there was no game Sunday between that eleven and San Ramon.

The contest was scheduled to come off at Haywards.

This is the second time the Pleasanton eleven has suffered from "cold feet," and refused to meet San Ramon.

The latter team, however, is planning for a game with the Black Diamond eleven, which claims the championship of Contra Costa county.

Here's a Heart to Heart Talk to U. C. ATHLETES BY CHRISTY

BERKELEY, February 21.—The University of California enters the spring athletic season with the determination to put on every field where she will be represented, a team in the very best condition.

In view of this determination Trainer Walter Christy has some interesting things to say concerning the observance of training rules. He says: "While I am pleased with the work of the men as a whole, I do not like the attitude of certain individuals in the teams. We should stop right here at the very beginning of the season and settle this question of training rules."

"Now, it is in the baseball team to play good ball. Thus far the weather has been against us and colds have hindered some of the boys a great part of the playing time. I think that if a strict set of training rules were issued and enforced that a better article of ball would be turned out. Strange tales have reached my ears and one or two things have been personally observed. I have always tried to get the men to regard training rules, but some athletes stretch things."

CHRISTY'S IDEAS.

"My idea of this year's baseball team is this: My statement being made for the good of the college and for the future welfare of the team. There is a tendency on the part of our older players to think that they can train as professionals do. I claim otherwise. Smoking and late hours hurt the batting eye. Professionals are an older and more mature lot of men who play baseball for five or eight months of the year. As a rule, the lightest man playing professional ball weighs hardly ever less than 150 pounds and from that up to 200."

"We are so isolated from other colleges that our players come in contact with more or less professionals some being friendly. I think that contact and hearing professionals talk creates a tendency to ape them. This business of approaching our players and offering professional baseball occupations certainly injures the team."

"Young men do swell up and at times no coach can tell them any part of the game."

"What I want to see is a truly college team, with the men only thinking of the future and doing what they can in a manly way to command respect from the rest of the college."

"We have been and are drawing away and forgetting college traditions and college spirit. Let us turn and do what we can to tell baseball players in a nice way to train faithfully and show them the college appreciates them for doing it. First men, talk to your brothers trying for the team. Now, frat men, talk to your friends."

"Our coach, Nick Williams, is doing excellent work and has shown himself to be a hard worker and success ought to attend his efforts."

ON THE TRACK.

"As for track, our first try-out occurred Saturday. A muddy track hurt time, but it wasn't time that I was after. My endeavor was to get the fighting spirit of the team and of the individual. I have only praise for those that competed and for the really good work done by every one of the older men who have been running second and third ever since they entered in college."

"The improvement only shows that the men in the past only imagined they were tired. The fight has always been there, but the individual gave up. Some here in college said quit, but I argued no in many a case, and Saturday's work shows I was right. What of the man who has trained all this season and yet failed even to show?"

"The '08 men were first as regards numbers, a large number—too large. I am positively ashamed of some and if their after life shows the same spirit I can and will continue to pity them. Some of the excuses were, 'I overslept—laid down after dinner'; another, 'I did not know that there would be a meet.'"

"I am waiting for about thirty others. I am especially waiting for two athletes that I have worked hard for in the past. I saw them in Oakland the night before the tryout at midnight. They did not show up Saturday. I do claim that the '08 class has too many sugar and water athletes and the sooner some get on to the right and wrong of this the better for everyone, especially themselves."

BASKET-BALL TOP PRICE FOR A TROTTER HORSE.

GAME IS PLAYED

An exciting game of basketball was played last night at the Reliance Club between the Berkeley High School and Reliance Club teams.

Play commenced at 9 p. m., and the game was lively from start to finish.

A big crowd of Oakland High School boys were on hand "keeping cases" on the playing of the Berkeleyites, as they meet them March 10.

Although the boys from the college town put up a game fight, they finally lost to the club men.

The final score read: Berkeley, 19; Reliance, 32.

The line-ups were as follows:

Berkeley—F. Monnett, F. Johnson, C. Butler, G. Miller, G. Evers.

Reliance—F. Menges, F. Burpee, C. Hook, G. Engenhoff, G. Rode, Baker.
